Join us on 11th September 2024 in London, for a day of talks on the World's Most Advanced Open Source Database coupled with the usual valuable railway track. This event is aimed at all users and developers of PostgreSQL and is your chance to meet and exchange ideas and knowledge with like-minded database fanatics in London.

Schedule

We are pleased to announce that the schedule for PGDay UK 2024 has now been published. You can see the fantastic selection of talks we have planned at: <https://2024.pgday.uk/schedule/>

If you have been would like to thank all those who submitted talks, as well as the program committee who had a long and difficult job selecting the talks!

Registration

Registration for attendees is now open. For more information and to secure your seat, please visit: <https://2024.pgday.uk/registration/>

Sponsors

Sponsor the event and take your chance to present your services or products to the PostgreSQL community - or see it as a great back opportunity. The benefactor sponsorship level also includes a free entrance ticket. Please head to: <https://2024.pgday.uk/become-sponsor/> for more details.

See you there!

As usual, if you have any questions, don't hesitate to contact us at contact@pgday.uk. We look forward to seeing you in London in September! PGDay UK 2024 is a PostgreSQL Europe event run according to the PostgreSQL Community Conference Recognition programme. We've just published the program for PGDay Lowlands, taking place September 13, in Amsterdam. We received a good number of late submissions and our Program Committee had their work cut out for them creating the schedule. Our Call for PGDay 2024 is still open until August 10.
We'd like to thank Alvaro Aranda, Carlos Aranda, Chris Ellis, Gerard Duijndijk, and committee chair Boris Meeks for reviewing all late proposals.

Jumping to relevant information where possible and making it easy to do so

Trying to present information in the order it's needed and not relying on colours for differentiation. Want to make these act as filters in the future.

Visual hierarchy aims to make the most important information obvious

Trying to condense information where possible. In future want talk descriptions directly on the schedule.
